SCHOOL OF ENGLISH AND FOREIGN LANGUAGES
GANDHIGRAM RURAL INSTITUTE
(Deemed to be University)
(Re-Accredited by NAAC with 'A' Grade - III Cycle)
Gandhigram - 624 302 Tamil Nadu

THE INSTITUTE:

Gandhigram was born in 1947. A team of dedicated disciples and contemporaries of Gandhiji, Dr. T. S. Soundram and Dr. G. Ramachandran, developed Gandhigram, the home of many rural development programmes. The Gandhigram Rural Institute (GRI) was founded in 1956. Started in a small way, it was conferred the status of a Deemed University in 1976. Today, the University is a big educational complex comprising eight Schools, offering in all about sixty one different programmes. It awards Doctoral, Master's and Bachelor's Degrees and also Diplomas and Certificates through its eight academic Schools: Tamil, Indian Languages and Rural Arts; English and Foreign Languages; Health Sciences and Rural Development; Social Sciences; Management Studies; Sciences; Computer Science and Technologies; Agriculture and Animal Sciences. The Institute was re-accredited with 'A' Grade by NAAC in 2016 (Third Cycle). It is a centrally funded university under the Ministry of Human Resources Development, Government of India.

SCHOOL OF ENGLISH AND FOREIGN LANGUAGES:

The School of English and Foreign Languages is as old as the Institute and offers a Master's Programme in English and Communicative Studies. The School also offers full- and part-time PhD programmes in English. Apart from these programmes, Certificate Courses in French and Spoken English are conducted by the School. It has been a pioneer in introducing innovative programmes, especially in the field of Communicative and Cultural Studies. It ran a Master's Programme in Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies, a UGC Innovative Programme, from 2005-10. It has so far produced 68 PhDs and more than 150 MPhils. The members of the Faculty serve on various Boards of Studies and other bodies of higher learning in different universities throughout the country. Among the faculty, there are two Fulbright scholars and two Erasmus Mundus (EMINTE) international visiting scholars. The School brings out Gandhigram Literary Review (ISSN: 2278-8190), a peer-reviewed journal.

MA English and Communicative Studies, offered under the Choice-Based Credit System (CBCS), is a synthesis of language and literature. The programme consciously includes a variety of literatures such as British, American, European, Indian and Canadian. It includes postcolonial literatures as well, thus bridging the gap between the mainstream and the marginalized voices and articulations, and canonical and non-canonical literatures, giving students a holistic vision of life and literature. The programme has a fair percentage of language and theory papers such as Communication, English Language Teaching, Phonetics, Literary Criticism, Translation Studies and Cultural Studies. From a political, ideological standpoint too, the programme has a definite orientation, for there are papers on Gender Studies, South Asian Literatures, Cultural Studies, and Literatures of the Marginalized. There is a paper on Western Philosophy to enable the students understand the philosophical underpinnings of Western literature. There are discipline-specific and generic electives and modular elective courses under the Choice-Based Credit System. At the end of the second semester, the students are sent to leading Newspapers and/or Media Houses for hands-on training, which is a sequel to a course in Journalism and Mass Media. Another highpoint of the programme is that the students write a Dissertation in the fourth semester. Yet another notable feature of the programme is that all students study French in the second semester. In tune with the objectives of the Institute, all students enroll themselves in a course on "Gandhi in Everyday Life" and undergo a Village Placement Programme.

The MA programme in English and Communicative Studies prepares the students for teaching positions in colleges, universities and schools. The curriculum has been designed in such a way that those who complete this programme will get absorbed in the Print and Media industry also. The final semester instills in the students a research orientation, thus preparing them for doctoral programmes offered by the School.
